NO WORDS Software™

There's a Fun Fair at the park — Music! Ice Cream! Balloons! McGee and his pal, Tony, are ready for a day of fun. Come on, Mom and Dad, let's go!

Send McGee down the slide. Help Tony fly a kite. Why not swing along the monkey bars?

How many apples does the Juggler have? Can you guess what balloon animal the Clown will make next? Wait till you see and hear the One-Man Band!

McGee and Tony make lots of new friends at the park. They'll want to go to the Fun Fair again and again. And YOUR CHILD will, too!

Actual digitized voices and sound effects, and realistic animation, will fascinate children aged 2 to 5. Because no reading is required, and using the mouse is so easy, kids can run the program ALL BY THEMSELVES! And while they're having fun, they're learning or reinforcing such skills as Object/Shape Recognition, Story-Telling, Cause and Effect, and Eye-Hand Coordination.

McGee and Tony stand for a portrait. Want to see how it comes out?

"Ready, Tony?" asks McGee.

"Yup!" says Tony. "Spin me!"

McGee at the Fun Fair is the third in Lawrence Productions' NO WORDS Software series that puts young children in control of the computer. McGee, a Parent's Choice Gold Award winner, and Katie's Farm are a big hit with preschoolers, parents, and educators alike.

How does the One-Man Band play all those instruments at once? Even the Juggler is amazed.

Screen shots are from IBM MCGA version. Other versions may vary.
